

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITY ANNOUNCEMENT

MEPIELAN CENTRE, an international research and training Centre located at Panteion University of Athens, seeks candidates for

- Two unpaid internships for Practice and Collaboration at the MEPIELAN Centre

Applicants interested in the activities and the programme areas (see our homepage www.mepielan.gr) of the Centre as well as in the active participation in the formulation and submission of research proposals should

- have (or be candidates for) a Ph.D. degree in international environmental law and policy or a related field or
- have a Master's degree in the above areas

Candidates should be fluent in English. The good knowledge of a second language would be an asset. Candidates should have an outstanding academic record and show the potential for excellence in research. Knowledge of interdisciplinary approaching to any of the programme areas of MEPIELAN Centre and previous experience in research proposals - though not required - is of advantage. In addition, there will be room to follow individual research interests within the foci of the research area.

Being an international research and training Centre of the Panteion University of Athens and a partner to the COST Action IS0802 "Transformations of Global Environmental Governance" (TGE), MEPIELAN CENTRE provides excellent support to potential candidates who are interested in developing their career in research and teaching.

The practice is initially for six months but may subsequently be extended.

This call remains open until we are able to fill the position. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, relevant publications and 2 letters of recommendation to: (We encourage applications via e-mail).
